1. Location: The "Stanka Zavod" Machine Tool Plant is located about 0.9 miles south of ALAPAYEVSK (61°42'E/57°51'N), Sverdlovsk Oblast, 1,500 feet southeast of the Neyva River.

2. Plant Installations: The plant has two spur tracks. One enters the plant from the south and leads to the storage depot, the other, a narrow-gauge spur, branches off from the Ural railroad line, enters the plant area from the north, passes the foundry, and leads to the boiler house (see Annex).

25X1     Comment:

a. Report confirms previous information*. The designation Stanka Zavod was reported for the first time.

b. The attached plant sketch fully confirmed previously received sketches as to the locations of the main building. Data on measurements vary.

c. According to report, the plant is located exactly south of the road and railroad bridges over the Neyva River. A previous report stated that the plant was somewhat southeast of these bridges. Further information is required to clarify this point.
